

CULPEPER SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

Annual Exhibition Came to a Close Yesterday After Fine Day.

ATTENDANCE VERY LARGE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CULPEPER, VA., July 5.—Beneath the genial influence of a sure sky to-day's fine close found the third annual exhibition of the Culpeper Horse Show and Racing Association a thing of the past.
Under the present management with C.
J. Rixey as President, Mr. C. W. Smith as General Manager, Mr. J. P. Latham as Secretary, Mr. Traver Daniel as Track Manager, the association has prospered both in the quality of the show and in the proceeds. The judges, Messrs. W. W.
Boles, R. W. Daniel and W. R. Barker, well performed their difficult task.

The crowd on the grounds to-day, if anything exceeded that of yesterday, and was withal orderly and good natured.
Everyone seemed to enjoy himself at this great Donny Brook fair. As on yesterday Senator Thomas S. Martin, Hon. J.
T. Ellyson and Mr. G. H. Hulvey made hay while the sun shone as it shines here in all its splendor, and shook hands with the gathered sovereigns.

to rest yesterday.

land.

SERVICE WAS VERY SIMPLE

President and Cabinet Acted As Honorary Pallbearers—Casket Not Opened.

(By Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, O., July 5.—The body of John Hay rests tonight in his family burial ground in a corner of Lakeview Cemetery. Five hundred feet to the west of where the great secretary lies is the monument of James A. Garfield; two hundred feet to the north rises the monument of the Rockefeller family.
The services throughout were admirably conducted, and from the arrival of President Roosevelt in the morning until his departure in the afternoon brought the official day to its end not a single unpleasant incident was in evidence.
President Roosevelt's train on the Pennsylvania Railroad rolled into the Union Depot exactly at the time set for 9 o'clock.
Troop A of the Ohio National Guard, with a band, covered with national colors, and the beautiful wreaths sent by President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and by the members of the diplomatic corps, was carried in, the President Vice-President and honorary pall-bearers following with uncovered heads. The services were simple, comprising prayer, scriptural reading and a hymn. Rev. Dr. Hayden and Rev. A. B. McJannet officiated. As the body was removed, Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" was sung. At the grave a hymn was sung, followed by the committal service and benediction.

Mrs. Hay turned away from the grave, and as she passed President Roosevelt reached out his hand to her. He took it in both his own, bowing deeply as he did so. Mrs. Hay, with the members of her family, returned to the residence of Samuel Mather, while the President and his party went directly to his train, which left soon after 1 o'clock for the East.

WARSHIP TO LEAD NEW REVOLUTION

comply with the demand for coal, for the reason that the town has none.

May Mean Revolution.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—2:15 A. M.— While no official confirmation is obtainable, The Associated Press has been informed by an authority usually reliable that the Admiralty has received news that the Kniaz Potemkin after shipping coal, provisions and medicines, is again at large in the Black Sea, and that her destination is unknown.

Whether the report of the sailing of the battleship be true or not, the crew took a remarkable step yesterday, when, with all the solemnity of a provisional government, it issued a manifesto addressed to the Powers. This action doubtless was taken to quiet the apprehension of foreign powers and to leave no excuse for the sending of warships through the Dardanelles to effect the capture of the battleship, which until now Russia's Black Sea fleet has not dared to attempt.

It is considered a sardonic move on the part of the mutineers, and stamps the commander of the crew as a leader far above the class of the ordinary sailor, and strengthens the opinion that he is not a member of the original crew, but one of the revolutionaries who went on board at Odessa.

In circles closely in touch with the revolutionists it is regarded as a foregone conclusion that the commander of the Kniaz Potemkin, knowing the situation in the Caucasus, will head for Port of Batoum, where the revolutionists are exceedingly strong. In the hope of producing a general rising, the authorities refused to prevent it, such a contingency is by no means impossible.

Dispatches from Tiflis, received last night, say that reports of the rioting at Odessa, and the action of the Kniaz Potemkin have aroused the most intense interest and the wildest joy among the revolutionists.

Mutineers to Be Shot.

ODESSA, July 5.—Sixty-seven of the mutineers from the Georgi Plekhanov, including the ringleaders, were imprisoned to-day. It is expected that all of them will be shot.

It is reported that the battleship Kniaz Potemkin appeared to-day off Akkerman, twenty-seven miles southwest of Odessa.
On July 3 a torpedo boat entered the harbor of Akkerman and demanded conditions for a halt at the wharves. The torpedo boat refused, whereupon the torpedo boat fired two shots. The torpedo boat afterwards obtained all the supplies she required.

EDITORS GIVEN HEARTY WELCOME

Convention is Best in History of Virginia-North Carolina Association.

MAY MEET HERE IN WINTER

(Special from a Staff Correspondent.) ASHESVILLE, N. C., July 5.—Perhaps the most noteworthy, as well as the most gratifying, fact in connection with the Virginia-North Carolina press convention, which began at Kenilworth Inn this forenoon, is the patent fact that it is easily the best convention the Carolina editors have ever held. At an early hour this morning the announcement was made that there had been 270 arrivals, while a number came in during the day. As to the personnel of the convention, the various schools of journalism were represented, a fact which could not be said of many previous gatherings.

Such is the estimate of the meeting of the North Carolina and Virginia editors by the Asheville Gazette-News of this afternoon, and that is the estimate of the editors themselves. It is a remarkable gathering and the citizens of Asheville, and Manager Moore of the Kenilworth Inn are doing their utmost to make the social side of the occasion as successful as the business side has been. This is a smile of satisfaction upon the countenances of each and every guest, which never comes off, save when some mention of adjournment is made.

President Varner, of the North Carolina Press Association, who is himself a most gracious host, suggested this morning that a mid-winter meeting of the two associations be held next year in Virginia, and a trip be taken from that point to Florida and Cuba. The editorial company is now taking a trolley ride through the scenic suburbs of Asheville, personally conducted by Mr. W. B. Westlake, of the Asheville Citizen.

The Carolina Association held a business meeting this morning, and the Virginians sat with them. There was an eloquent address of welcome by Mayor Barnard, of Asheville, who made a hit by saying that he was born in Virginia, but that otherwise he would prefer to have been born in North Carolina, and that were he not a resident of North Carolina he would prefer to be a resident of Virginia. It was a graceful speech altogether. The responses were by Mr.
Charles D. Dewitt, of the Salem Times-Register, for Virginia, and Major H. A.
London, of the Pittsburg Record, for North Carolina.

Mr. Dewitt said the Virginians were overwhelmed with the cordiality of their reception, which sentiment the Virginians applauded, and Major London, who figured so prominently when Carolina's monument was unveiled at Appomattox, said that he had been no less a difference of opinion between Virginia and North Carolina over the question whether North Carolina was first on certain occasions and last on other occasions, but that there was one point with reference to which there could be no question, and that was Virginia was both first and last to-day, first in our affections and last in our gratitude.

President's Address.
As The Times-Dispatch had made the suggestion that a joint meeting be held this year, Mr. W. S. Copeland was called upon by President Lewis, of the Virginia association, to make some "appropriate remarks," and spoke briefly. President Varner then read his annual address, and among other things said:

"We have yet problems to solve and difficulties to overcome. A lack of confidence on the part of the people in the courts of justice is a most regrettable state of affairs. Human life is entirely too cheap in North Carolina. It is our happiest that rich and influential men go with impunity because they are able to employ shrewd counsel and procure competent men to do their legal businesses. This state of affairs is not confined to any one section of the United States.

The annual address of President Lewis was read last night, and the Virginia editors agreed that it was one of the best ever delivered by any president of the association. After President Varner's address this morning, several papers were read as follows:

"The Fraternity of Journalism," by W.
S. Copeland, of the Richmond Times-Dispatch.
"The Effect of the Patent Outside Upon Foreign Advertising," D. J. Whitchard, of the Greenville Reflector.
"Business End of a Newspaper," W. B.
Westlake, of the Asheville Citizen.
"Historian's Paper," by T. J. Lassiter, of the Smithfield Herald.
"Scrambled Eggs," by J. A. Robinson, of the Durham Sun.

At the evening session, there was an address of welcome to the visiting editors by Hon. B. F. Dixon, State Auditor, and response by Mr. J. H. Lindsey, of the Charlotteville Progress. The evening programme was concluded with a complimentary ball.

There were 190 men in the mine, working in the vicinity of the explosion, which occurred in the third cross entry, and that more were not killed or injured is miraculous. It is not known how the disaster occurred. The explosion was of terrible force, and caused a heavy fall of slate and debris. One man is thought to be buried under this fall of slate. There were eleven men in close proximity to the explosion. They were Dominick Bod-mitte, Jim Dramatis, Antonio Locuac, Jemelle Exable, Romeo Antonio, Antonio Jullitono, Anto Jollono, Frank Trabelis, Jemelle Jozozate, Lee Murroy. All of them are Italians except the last named. Romeo Antonio and Jemelle Exable died en route to the hospital.

All of the injured men came from the mine alive, the burnt flesh dropping from their bodies.

The explosion occurred about 8 o'clock, and in half an hour the entire mountain was covered with people, some attracted by a morbid curiosity, while others were there to do rescue work.

Several experts have been at work in the mine all day and no further trouble is anticipated. The loading of coal at the Tidewater tipple will probably be resumed to-morrow.

Mine officials claim that the explosion was caused by a very heavy shock in robing the pockets and that the dust ignited the Tidewater mine, however, is below the Elk River bed and outsiders familiar with the mine doubt the dust igniting theory. The mine is ventilated by an eighteen foot fan.

PIANOS FOR EVERY TASTE.

OUR LINE is so large and so varied that every musical taste may be gratified. As long as our patrons get what they want, we had as soon sell one Piano as another. Which means that we do not push the product of any one factory.

There is a great advantage in buying where you have an absolute freedom of choice from different makes of pianos. Hearing this variety of excellent instruments one after another gives a fairer chance of comparison than if we offered several pianos from the same factory.

A certain piano may have a defect that does not exist in one of another factory. Play them side by side and the defect will be apparent. Try the experiment with one from the same factory and you will not notice the defect, as it will probably be found in all the pianos of that factory.

We Invite Your Inspection of the Best Line of Pianos in the South.
